A Merry Christmas to All.

The Progress wishes its many readers a "Merry Christmas and a Happy Year." Christmas is generally observed the world over in respect to our beloved Savior, who was born on that memorable day. This is a day that all should enjoy in feast and merriment with their families and friends. The old adage of "Christmas comes but once a year" is very true. It will be seen by a glance at the calendar it falls on Sunday this year, when every body will have a holiday, the poor as well as the rich will have Christmas day in full this year and hope all will enjoy it. There are many, young and old, who anticipated, but a short time back, laid their plans for a good time, but today they are laid low.

The small boy will be up bright and early on Christmas morning to see what Santa Claus had brought them. The next move will be out on the street with fire crackers and toy pistols and horns, and in fact, anything to make a noise. As Christmas eve falls on Saturday night, Santa Claus will visit the homes of all of his young friends, provided, they have been good, in his new "flying machine" where he will leave each and every good little boy and girl a handsome Christmas present as a token for their good behavior for the past year. He will arrive in Ocean Springs this year at 12 o'clock Saturday night, providing he meets with no accident during his long trip across the continent.

The older people will enjoy Christmas by mulling with their friends at dinner and merriment of all kinds; there will be greeting between old and young which bring them closer together. While others will hold reunions of families which is another blessing to this wide world. Just think of the old and young who will meet on this day, that perhaps have not seen one and other for years, what a joy this will be to the families.

This is a day that all should go, who can, to church and offer prayer for the poor unfortunate ones that have not the means to celebrate Christmas as they would like to and ask the Lord to help them the coming year both in health and strength, and otherwise.

THE MAN AHEAD.

In every paper we pick up we're sure to find a lot of silly gush about the man who is behind. There is the man behind the counter, and the man behind the gun, and the man behind the buzz saw, and the man behind the line, the man behind the plow, the man behind the plover, the man behind the fence and the man behind the whistle and the man behind the bar, the man behind the kodak, and the man behind the oar, and the man behind his fist, and everything behind nothing is entered on their list. But they've skipped another fellow, of whom nothing has been said—the fellow who is ever or little was ahead; who also pays for all he gets, whose bill is always signed—his is a blamed sight more important than the man who is behind. All the Editor and merchants and the whole commercial class are indebted for existence to this honest, noble man. He keeps us all in business and his town is never dead; and so we take off our hats to the man who is ahead.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

It takes up about two pages in the average newspaper. It would make a story about as long as "Mrs. Wiggs of the cabage Patch."

It dodges the labor question in about 1,500 words. It dodges the trust question and consumes another 1,500 words in the attempt.

It speaks very highly of the weather and descends upon the connection between meteorology and plant life.

It makes an allusion to irrigation in a way to jar the tender susceptibilities of no one.

It contains personal mention of our forests reserves and national parks.

It informs us that we have a post office department through which letters can be mailed from one town to another.

It states that the Indians are doing well, or at least as well as they can.

It refers to our quarantine laws and pension bureau.

It touches lightly upon our Asiatic trade, and immigration.

It says nothing about the fatal delinquency of the Boston Herald.

It discusses crime, corruption in elections, justice, our foreign policy, arbitration and our army and navy.

It ignores utterly the subject of tariff revision.

It contains no reference to the case of Mrs. Cassie L. Chudwick.

It does not answer the question, "Why does a chicken cross the road?"

It does not say how much the trusts put up in the last election.

It does not say when the bureau of publicity is going to publish something.

It does not make a single suggestion of congress of the least importance.

It takes up two pages in the papers, and that's all.—Commercial Appeal.
